1. KNOWLEDGE IS POWER

Super is one of the most tax-effective savings vehicles in Australia. If you understand how super can work for you, you might just be amazed at how much money you can save in the long run.

To help you better understand your entitlements, we have created a series of documents. The documents relevant to you will depend on your circumstances.

2. SUPER FACTS AND STATS

To be 'comfortable' in retirement, you will need a lump sum of $430,000 at age 65.¹

Are you on track?

Most Australians aren't!

If you are a low to middle income earner, you can get free money from the Government in the form of a co-contribution.

Read the Government co-contribution scheme fact sheet.

Australians are critically under-insured.

Less than one third of Australians insure their ability to earn an income!²

Insurance through super is cost-effective!

Over 80% of Australians have more than one super account.³

This means multiple fees which can result in the loss of thousands of dollars!

It's easy to rollover your accounts into Prime Super – just read the Why have multiple super funds fact sheet.

Australia's population is ageing.⁴ This means, in the future, there will be less people in the workforce to support the economy.

When you retire, the Government therefore may not be able to help you as it helps retirees now.

Will you have enough money saved to fund your own lifestyle for upwards of 20 years?

Did you know?

If you don't provide a valid nomination, in the event of your death your super savings could be paid to individuals decided by the Trustee or courts.

Be sure to nominate your beneficiaries – use the form at the back of this brochure or go online at www.primesuper.com.au.

3. FIVE KEY CONSIDERATIONS TO GET YOU ON TRACK

Before choosing a super fund, it's important to understand how you can make the most of your super. Only then will you know if a super fund offers the right range of products and services to suit your needs.

At Prime Super, we believe there are five key questions you should ask yourself.

1. Am I on track?

To achieve a "comfortable" standard of living in retirement, you need an annual income of almost $42,500 (for a couple, this is just over $58,000) in retirement.¹

To achieve this, assuming a retirement age of 65, you would need a $430,000 lump sum on retirement (or $510,000 for a couple).

Are you on track?

If you're like the majority of Australians, then probably not!

You might want to consider contributing extra funds into your super. You can potentially:

- make before or after-tax contributions;
- receive the Government co-contribution; and/or
- receive contributions from your spouse.

You should always be aware of your contribution limits as additional tax applies.

Does the fund you're considering allow you to make additional contributions?

Prime Super does!

✓ Check out our Contributions & tax – the super advantage guide, the The Government co-contribution scheme fact sheet and the 7 ways to grow your super fact sheet.

2. Am I choosing the right investments?

Making the right investment choice can mean the difference between achieving and not achieving the lifestyle you want in retirement.

You should ensure your investment strategy will:

- achieve your long-term objectives;
- provide you with the benefits of diversification;
- meet your needs as you get older or your circumstances change; and
- suit your level of risk tolerance.

Does the fund you're considering offer flexible investment options?

Prime Super does!

✓ Check out our Investment choice can make a BIG difference guide.

3. Am I adequately protected?

The Australian population as a whole is critically under-insured.

Research conducted in 2008 revealed one in two industry fund members were under-insured by $100,000 or more.²

Outside of this, less than a third of Australians insure their ability to earn an income.³

Insurance through super is typically available at lower rates than outside of super. It's important you identify:

- what cover you currently have;
- how much extra cover you may need; and
- what type of cover you may need to protect your savings.

Does the fund you're considering offer competitive, cost-effective insurance cover?

Prime Super does!

✓ Check out our Are you adequately covered? (Health division) guide and the supporting insurance fact sheets.

4. Is my super with one fund only?

Over 80% of Australians have more than one super account.⁴ Multiple accounts mean multiple fees, which over time can significantly erode your savings.

Let's say you have money invested in four super funds and for the three funds you no longer contribute to, you're charged $350 a year in fees. In five years you'll have paid $1,750 and after 30 years a whopping $10,500 in fees!

And that doesn't even include the interest you will have foregone on this amount.⁴

Does the fund you're considering allow you to roll over additional funds?

Prime Super does!

✓ Check out our Why have multiple super funds? fact sheet.

5. When should I retire?

There is a lot to consider when making the decision about when to retire. It's important to take into account whether:

- you can afford to retire based on your current savings and planned expenses; and
- you can move to part-time work arrangements, and ease yourself into retirement.

If your super fund offers a retirement product, this may make this sometimes difficult period in your life, a little easier.

Does the fund you're considering offer retirement products?

Prime Super does!

✓ Check out our Prime Super Short-Form PDS - Retirement income streams and Prime Super's retirement options brochure.

1. ABOUT PRIME SUPER

Prime Super is an industry super fund committed to providing personal support to help you achieve your retirement goals.

It was established in 1996 through the amalgamation of a number of smaller super funds. Originally servicing only the farming sector we later expanded to include other primary industries, including timber, horticulture and mining. An additional merger in May 2014 saw our reach expand further to include the health, aged care and associated industries, and today we look after the retirement needs of more than 140,000 members.

Prime Super's Health division is not open to all individuals. It is only open to:

- an individual who's employer is accepted as a Health division employer, or

The above list is indicative and Prime Super reserves the right to modify the list of industries eligible to join the Health division from time-to-time.

2. HOW SUPER WORKS

Your member account

All members' funds are pooled together to reduce transaction costs. The value of each member's investment is recorded in their member account. Except for the income protection benefit, which is entirely made up of insurance payments, benefits paid to you by the Fund are paid from, or include, the balance of your member account.

The balance of your member account equals:

- the total contributions and transfers paid into your member account; less
- taxes, fees and charges, insurance premiums and any previous withdrawals or transfers out of your member account; plus or minus
- investment gains or losses.

Investment earnings are calculated on members' account balances on a monthly basis after deductions for insurance premiums (if applicable) and all applicable taxes, fees and charges.

Investment earnings are allocated to members' accounts at 30 June each year or upon exit from the Fund. Investment gains or losses are reported to members in dollars. The total investment gains or losses added to an account equals the compound effect of monthly investment returns less all applicable taxes, fees and charges. If a member leaves the Fund during the year (i.e. withdraws their balance as a lump sum and ceases to be a member), the member's account balance will be credited (or debited) with the monthly crediting rates (positive or negative) up to the end of the month of the last determined monthly crediting rate. For the period from this date to the date of withdrawal, the Trustee applies an interim crediting rate which is generally 0%. The Trustee reserves the right to apply a different rate in times of significant market fluctuation.

The Trustee reserves the right to adjust investment earnings where it believes it would be unfair or a breach of fiduciary duty not to act to protect the interests of all members of the Fund. A withdrawal fee may apply to the payment of your member account. Please see the Fees and costs section of this brochure for further information. If you need more information on the payment of benefits, please call Prime Super on 1800 675 839.

When benefits can be paid

The Government has placed restrictions on when you can claim your super benefits. In general, access to your super will depend upon the 'preservation' classification that applies. There are three classes of preservation.

1. Preserved benefits

All contributions (including any voluntary contributions you make) and earnings paid or accruing from 1 July 1999, are 'preserved'. Employer termination payments (ETPs) are also fully preserved. This means that preserved benefits cannot be accessed until you meet a condition of release set by the Government.

2. Restricted non-preserved benefits

These benefits are not preserved but cannot be cashed until you leave your job with your current employer or are otherwise eligible to take a benefit from the Fund.

3. Unrestricted non-preserved benefits

These are benefits that are generally rolled over from another super fund which could have been cashed at a previous point in time. These benefits can be paid out at any time.

Preservation of benefits is complex and the Government may change the rules from time-to-time. Up to date information can be obtained by calling us on 1800 675 839.

If you require further information we can refer you to a financial planner. Please contact us on 1800 675 839 for further information.

At the date of this brochure, preserved benefits can generally only be paid upon:

- taking advantage of a transition to retirement strategy;
- permanent retirement at or after your preservation age;
- reaching age 65;
- reaching age 60 and ceasing gainful employment with an employer;
- satisfying the compassionate grounds tests;
- meeting the financial hardship requirements;
- suffering total and permanent disability;

- diagnosis of a Terminal Illness;
- permanent departure from Australia if you are an eligible temporary resident;
- satisfying any other condition of release as specified in superannuation legislation;
- having less than $200 in your account and ceasing employment with your employer; and
- death.

Preservation age

Your preservation age is as follows:

Date of birth	Preservation age
Before 1 July 1960	55
1 July 1960 – 30 June 1961	56
1 July 1961 – 30 June 1962	57
1 July 1962 – 30 June 1963	58
1 July 1963 – 30 June 1964	59
After 1 July 1964	60

The Prime Super retirement income streams

Prime Super has its own retirement income stream products. If you decide that you would like to have a steady income stream throughout your retirement, we can set up an income stream account for you. We offer two income stream products and your circumstances will determine which retirement income stream product is best suited to your needs.

An allocated income stream

An allocated income stream lets you convert your super into a regular income in retirement. It gives you easy access to your super savings and may have some tax advantages. You do not have to be an existing Prime Super member to take advantage of this product, you just need to have more than $10,000 in super savings and have either met your preservation age or another condition of release (as detailed on the previous page).

Before you open an allocated income stream, it's a good idea to consolidate all of your super accounts because once you open an account you are not allowed to deposit any more money into it.

A non-commutable allocated income stream (transition to retirement (TTR) income stream)

A TTR income stream is similar to the allocated income stream except it provides you with:

- flexibility in transitioning to retirement;
- a tax-effective income stream drawn from your super account while you are still working; and
- restrictions on lump sum withdrawals.

With a TTR income stream, you can only withdraw lump sums if you meet the conditions of release as specified in this brochure.

When you retire or reach the age of 65, a TTR income stream will automatically transfer to an allocated income stream.

For further information on Prime Super's retirement options, please refer to the Prime Super Short-Form PDS – Retirement income streams or the Prime Super's retirement options brochure.

Benefit payments to temporary residents leaving Australia

If you are working in Australia as a temporary resident, you may be eligible to claim your super money when you leave Australia. This payment is called the Departing Australia Superannuation Payment (commonly referred to as "DASP"). You are only eligible for the DASP if you are not an Australian or New Zealand citizen* and:

* From 1 July 2013, eligible individuals may transfer their retirement savings between Australia and New Zealand after their emigration from one country to the other.

- you visited on an eligible temporary resident visa;
- your visa has expired or has been cancelled; and
- you have permanently departed Australia.

You may still be able to return to Australia on another visa even if you claim and receive your DASP.

If you are eligible for the DASP, you can apply for the payment online through the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) website (www.ato.gov.au), or you can apply for the payment in writing by completing an 'Application for a departing Australia superannuation payment' form (NAT 7204) which can be downloaded from the ATO website or obtained by calling the ATO on 13 10 20. This form should only be used if the Trustee has not paid your super money to the ATO as unclaimed super.

If you have not claimed your super from the Trustee and:

- at least six continuous months have passed since you left Australia and your visa ceased to be in effect; and
- you are not the holder of a temporary or permanent visa,

the ATO may require the Trustee to pay any outstanding amounts in your account to the ATO as unclaimed super. You can then apply to the ATO for the payment by completing an 'Application for payment of unclaimed super – individual' form (NAT 71685).

The Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) has granted relief under Class Order [09/437] to trustees of regulated super funds from notifying and providing exit statements to temporary residents who leave Australia and whose super is transferred to the ATO. In the event that your super is transferred to the ATO, we will rely on the Class Order relief and will not issue you with an exit statement at the time of, or after, the transfer of your benefit. However, where possible, we will provide you with a letter confirming the transfer.

You can obtain more information about the DASP by calling Prime Super on 1800 675 839.

Payment restrictions

The Trustee is subject to a range of legislation, some of which restricts our ability to pay benefits. In particular, payments cannot be made to any person unless that person provides sufficient identification to enable payments to occur in compliance with the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter Terrorism Financing Act 2006 (Cth).

How to claim benefits

To claim a benefit please contact us on 1800 675 839 and we will send you the necessary paperwork. As noted on the previous pages, certain conditions must be met before a benefit can be paid.

How benefits are paid

The Fund can pay benefits as:

- a lump sum or series of lump sum draw-downs;
- an allocated income stream;
- a TTR income stream; or
- a combination of the above.

Some methods of payment are not available for some types of benefits and this may change over time. For more information on how benefits are paid or the payment options available to you, please call us on 1800 675 839.

If you require further information we can refer you to a financial planner. Please contact us on 1800 675 839 for further information.

More information about the income stream options available to you, can be found in the Prime Super Short-Form PDS – Retirement income streams and the Prime Super's retirement options brochure.

Transfer to an Eligible Rollover Fund (ERF)

In special circumstances, we may transfer your benefit to an ERF without your permission. An ERF is a fund designated by the Australian Prudential and Regulation Authority (APRA) to receive and invest the entitlements of super members in certain circumstances. This usually occurs if you have a small account balance that has been inactive for more than 18 months. We may also pay your benefit to an ERF if:

- you request a benefit payment but do not provide adequate instructions on how to pay the benefit;
- we have not been able to contact you and believe you may be uncontactable; or
- we are required to do so by law.

If your benefit is paid to an ERF you will no longer be a member of Prime Super and any insurance cover you have will cease. Instead, you will become a member of the ERF and your benefit will be subject to its governing rules. If your benefit is transferred to the ERF, they should send you a copy of their PDS.

The Trustee charges members a fee of $11.76 for a transfer to its ERF. The ERF chosen by the Trustee is the Super Money Eligible Rollover Fund (SMERF), which can be contacted at:

Voluntary contributions can be made either before or after tax. Contributions made before-tax are called concessional contributions and those made after-tax are called non-concessional contributions. For more information about the LISC please go to www.ato.gov.au/super. <small>* Please note that the LISC is only available for concessional contributions made up to and including the 2016-17 financial year and determination by the ATO as to whether the LISC is payable will cease on 30 June 2019. - Terminal Illness benefits;
- total & permanent disablement benefits;

You can keep your savings in Prime Super and instruct your new employer to pay future contributions into your Prime Super member account. You can do so by completing the attached Choice of superannuation fund – Standard choice form and providing it to your employer.

If you do decide to change funds, we will arrange for your benefit to be rolled over to your new fund or retirement savings account once we have received the final contribution from your previous employer.

Retirement benefit

If permitted by law, you can receive a retirement benefit which can be taken as a lump sum or an income stream.

You may be able to draw on your retirement benefit if you are aged 55 or over and still working by using a TTR income stream (see page 11). If you do not use a TTR income stream, you must generally meet one of the following conditions before you can access your benefit. You must have reached:

- your preservation age and be permanently retired from the workforce;
- age 65; or
- age 60 and have ceased gainful employment with an employer.

Your retirement benefit becomes exhausted when the balance of your member account reaches zero. Payments to you from Prime Super must include both tax-free and taxable components (where they both exist) in portions reflecting the make-up of your total benefit.

Death benefit

If you die while a member of the Fund, your member account balance will be paid to your beneficiaries as an income stream or as a lump sum. In addition, any insured benefit may also become payable provided the insurer approves a claim made for payment.

For more information please see section 8 of this brochure.

Nominating a beneficiary

Who receives your Death benefit when you die depends on the law and what you instruct us to do. You have two options:

- do nothing, in which case the law requires us to pay your benefit to your dependants or estate or, if neither exists, to another person as required by law; or
- complete a Nomination of beneficiaries form which enables you to make either a 'preferred' or 'binding' nomination with regards to who receives your benefit in the event of your death.

Preferred beneficiaries

These are people who you would prefer to receive your Death benefit should you die while a member of the Fund. The Trustee will take your preference into account when making a payment but will ultimately decide who should receive your Death benefit according to superannuation law.

Binding beneficiaries

If you would like more certainty over who will receive your Death benefit, you should make a binding nomination/s. A binding nomination is legally binding and sets out the dependants and/or legal personal representatives that you would like to receive your Death benefit. This means that upon your death, your benefit will be paid to the people you want to receive it as long as your nomination is valid, and the people you have nominated qualify as dependants or legal personal representative (as defined under super law) at the time the benefit is paid.

A binding Death benefit nomination is only valid for three years and overrides any preferred nomination that you may have made. A binding nomination of beneficiary may be appropriate if your personal circumstances are stable.

Please note: Prime Super will notify you in writing when your nomination is due to expire, so that you have the chance to update it in time.

You can amend or cancel your binding beneficiary at any time.

To amend a binding beneficiary, please complete a Nomination of Beneficiaries form nominating your new beneficiary and send it back to us.

You will need to inform us in writing if you would like to cancel your binding beneficiary.

Who is a dependant?

Under superannuation law, a dependant includes:

- a spouse (including same-sex partners), regardless of whether the spouse is financially dependent on you. A spouse also includes a de facto, meaning a person who although not legally married to you, lived with you on a genuine domestic basis as your husband or wife at the time of death;
- a child including a biological, adopted, or step-child, regardless of whether the child was financially dependent on you;
- any person who was financially dependent on you at the time of death;
- a person with whom you have an interdependent relationship. Two people may have an interdependent relationship if:
 - they have a close personal relationship; and
 - they live together; and
 - one or each of them provides the other with financial support; and
 - one or each of them provides the other with domestic support and personal care.

An interdependent relationship may also exist where there is a close personal relationship between two people who do not satisfy other criteria because either or both of them suffer from a physical, intellectual or psychiatric disability.

Examples of interdependent relationships may include:

- same-sex couples who reside together and are interdependent;
- siblings who reside together; or
- an adult child who resides with and cares for an elderly parent.

Terminal Illness benefit

If you are diagnosed as having a Terminal Illness whilst you are a member of Prime Super's Health division, up to $3 million of your Death benefit may become payable while you are still alive, provided the Insurer approves the claim for payment.

For more information, see section 8 of this brochure.

Total and Permanent Disablement benefit

If you become totally and permanently disabled (TPD), the balance of your member account may become payable. In addition, any insured benefit may also become payable provided the Insurer approves your claim. All TPD benefits must be assessed by the Trustee before any payment is made, to ensure all payments are made in accordance with the relevant legislation and the Trust Deed.

As each claim is assessed by the Trustee and Insurer separately, it's possible for the Trustee to conclude that you qualify for a TPD benefit while the insurer concludes that you do not qualify for the benefit. If this occurs, the Trustee will pay the member account portion of the TPD benefit and liaise with the Insurer to consider your claim for the insured portion of the TPD benefit.

The Trustee has no obligation to pay the insured portion of the TPD benefit to you unless and until it is paid by the Insurer.

For more information, see section 8 of this brochure.

Income protection benefit

Income protection benefits provide a regular income of up to 75% of your monthly income plus SG contribution for up to two years provided you are not working and should the Insurer determine that you are unable to work in your usual occupation due to illness or injury.

The Income protection benefit is paid entirely from the proceeds of an insurance policy and is only paid if the Insurer concludes that you satisfy all of the criteria for payment. The Trustee has no obligation to pay an Income protection benefit to you unless and until it is paid by the Insurer.

For more information, see section 8 of this brochure.

Financial hardship and compassionate benefits

The Fund can also pay financial hardship and compassionate benefits. The criteria set by the Government for payment of these benefits are strict.

To be eligible for a financial hardship benefit you must:

- have been in receipt of a specified Commonwealth income support payment (e.g. Newstart Allowance) for a continuous period of 26 weeks and be unable to meet immediate family living expenses; or
- have reached your preservation age and received Commonwealth income support payments for a cumulative period of 39 weeks after reaching preservation age and not be gainfully employed on a full-time or part-time basis on the date of the application.

Approval of a financial hardship benefit is not automatic and applications lodged with the Trustee will be assessed according to the relevant law.

Applications for a compassionate benefit must be submitted to the Department of Human Services (DHS) and must relate to paying or meeting an expense of:

- treatment and transport for you or a dependant concerning life threatening illness or injury, acute or chronic pain or acute or chronic mental disturbance;
- modifying your home or motor vehicle if you or a dependant has a severe disability;
- palliative care for you or a dependant, or the death, funeral or burial expenses of a dependant;
- mortgage payments to prevent your lender selling your home; or
- similar grounds.

Management of the Fund

Who manages the Fund?

The Trustee is responsible for managing the Fund. The Directors of the Trustee meet regularly to discuss management of the Fund and determine important policies and procedures. Directors receive fees and are reimbursed for travelling expenses for attending Board and committee meetings.

Directors are nominated and appointed by the Board of the Trustee. The Trustee has a constitution containing rules for the appointment and removal of Directors.

The current Directors are:

Name	Position	Appointed to the Board on
Alan Bowman	Chairman	26 January 2001
Trevor Dixon	Deputy Chairman	5 April 2004
David Cooper	Director	1 July 2009
Duncan Fraser	Director	25 August 2010
Russell Collison	Director	28 August 2013
Martin Day	Director	28 October 2014
Jacqueline Kelly	Director	24 February 2015

The Directors may change from time-to-time.

Trust Deed

The Fund is governed by a Trust Deed which, amongst other things, sets out the entitlements of members and the obligations of the Trustee. From time-to-time we may need to make changes to the Trust Deed and will tell you about any changes that are important to you. A copy of our Trust Deed is available online at www.primesuper.com.au.

Important legislation

The Fund is regulated as a complying public offer super fund under Commonwealth Government legislation, principally the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993 and the Corporations Act 2001.

Anti-Money Laundering and Counter Terrorism Financing

The Trustee is obligated to comply with the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter Terrorism Financing Act 2006 (Cth) (AML/CTF).

In this regard, the Trustee is required to maintain a program that identifies, mitigates and manages money laundering and counter-terrorism risks associated with its business. As a result:

- we may require you to provide additional information in order to verify your identity before providing services to you;
- transactions may be delayed or refused where there are reasonable grounds to believe that the transaction breaches AML/CTF or any other Australian law; and
- where transactions are delayed or refused, we are not, subject to applicable law, liable for any loss you suffer howsoever caused.

From time-to-time, we may be legally required to disclose the information provided by you to regulatory and law enforcement agencies, including the Australian Transaction Reports and Analysis Centre.

Trustee liability insurance

The Trustee has liability insurance to protect it and the Directors against any losses arising as a result of a claim for a breach of their duties.

Wholly owned companies

Alan Bowman, Trevor Dixon, David Cooper, Duncan Fraser and Russell Collison are all Directors of the Agricultural Company of Australia Pty Ltd (AGRICO), a company established and owned by the Fund to invest a small proportion of Fund assets in the primary industry sector.

Conflict of interests

The Trustee has established procedures to ensure that any conflict of interest in respect of the Directors is disclosed and appropriately dealt with.

Reserving policy

The Trustee operates three reserves:

- the Administration reserve,
- the Investment reserve, and
- the Operational Risk Reserve (ORR).

All reserves are invested in the MySuper investment option.

As a condition of the Trustee's Registrable Superannuation Entity Licence, the Fund also holds at least $100,000 in a cash account at all times.

Administration reserve

All member fees are paid into the administration reserve and used to pay costs. As the Trustee operates the Fund on a not-for-profit basis, any surplus, after payment of current costs of the Fund and the Trustee, is applied to the benefit of members at the Trustee's discretion.

Investment reserve

Investment returns earned by the Fund for all investment options are held in an investment reserve between the time they are received by the Fund and the time they are credited to members. Any returns, positive or negative, achieved on the investment reserve are considered investment earnings of the Fund and will also be distributed to members.

Due to occasional unexpected investment distributions, or estimated tax liabilities and rounding of investment returns to whole cents, it is not practical to distribute the entire investment reserve. The balance of any carry-forward investment reserve is likely to be between zero and around 0.5% of the Fund's assets which is available for distribution to members in subsequent years.

Operational Risk Reserve

From 1 July 2013, the federal Government required all superannuation funds to build up an Operational Risk Reserve (ORR) to specifically cover potential losses arising from "operational risks". Refer to section 6 in Fees and Costs for information on Prime Super's ORR.

The balance of the Administration, Investment and Operational Risk Reserve accounts are:

Year ended	Administration reserve	% of FUM	Investment reserve	% of FUM	Operational Risk Reserve	% of FUM
2014	$6,071,000	0.24%	$2,073,000	0.08%	$6,383,000	0.25%
2013	$3,818,000	0.25%	$2,834,000	0.19%	-	-
2012	$427,000	0.03%	$1,489,000	0.12%	-	-
2011	$1,133,000	0.10%	$2,525,000	0.22%	-	-
2010	$715,000	0.07%	$3,281,000	0.33%	-	-
2009	$818,000	0.09%	$3,310,000	0.36%	-	-
2008	$884,000	0.08%	$1,752,000	0.17%	-	-

- others associated with the Fund,

is provided in our Annual Report.

None of the service providers named is responsible for any of the statements made in this brochure unless specifically and clearly attributed to them.

4. RISKS OF SUPER

The relationship between risk and reward

There is a general relationship between investment risk and reward. Growth-oriented investments such as shares tend to go up and down in value over the short-term, but generally outperform more conservative types of investments over the long-term.

The more growth-oriented investments that are included in an investment option, the greater the chance for short-term fluctuations in value – this is known as investment volatility or risk. Growth investments may not be suitable for a member with a conservative approach to investing or a member with a short time until retirement. Despite this, some members who are close to retirement continue to use growth investments because they intend to transfer their super to an income stream, giving them a longer investment time-frame.

Conservative investments such as cash and fixed interest tend to provide greater security, although they also tend to be outperformed by more high-growth options over the medium-to-long term. The level of risk you are prepared to take to potentially earn higher returns, or the more investment security you require, will determine your investment risk-reward profile.

Your risk-reward profile may change

It's not unusual for people to adopt different investment risk-reward profiles throughout their lives. As a general rule, a young person could be expected to have a higher investment risk-reward profile than an older person because they have a longer period until retirement, but this is not true for all people.

For example, members who intend to invest in a Prime Super retirement income stream product may be more comfortable taking a longer term view of investments, despite being close to retirement, because they can keep the same strategy in place when they change from the super fund to the income stream.

It's important to periodically review your investment strategy to ensure it is appropriate for your personal circumstances.

5. HOW WE INVEST YOUR MONEY

You can determine your own investment strategy by choosing which investment option or mix of options you would like to invest your super in.

Prime Super offers members a choice of nine different investment options, made up of four pre-mixed options and five sector options.

Pre-mixed options	Sector options
MySuper	Australian shares
Managed growth	International shares
Conservative	Property
Alternatives	Fixed interest
	Cash

This section provides general information you should consider when establishing your investment strategy. It is general information only and may not be relied on as personal advice.

To speak to someone about which investment option or mix of options is best suited to your needs please call us on 1800 675 839.

Prime Super's investment approach

Our main objective is to maximise members' investment returns to provide for their retirement. To achieve this we utilise a mix of listed and unlisted/alternative asset classes.

Listed asset classes

Listed assets comprise Australian and international shares, property, emerging markets, fixed interest and cash.

Each is linked to the performance of the economy and is measured against universal benchmarks. Returns are vulnerable to the usual market fluctuations.

These asset classes allow investors to build wealth over the long-term and limits investment risk through diversification within asset classes.

Unlisted/alternative asset classes

These are made up of unlisted alternative investments such as infrastructure, property, private equity and credit products. Some investments are so diverse in nature that they may sit across two or more of these categories.

Because these investments aren't tied to movements in the sharemarket, the assets can often help cushion members' returns against short-term market fluctuations.

These classes seek a higher rate of return in exchange for the higher risks involved in their investment strategy. However the Trustee seeks to manage this increased risk by diversifying across a number of different individual investments and types of investments.

Full details on how each investment option is managed are contained in the Prime Super Investment Strategy.

This document is available to members on request by calling 1800 675 839.

How do I select or change my investment strategy?

When you join the Fund you can choose which investment option or mix of options to invest in when you complete the Member application form (Health division) (attached to the current Short-Form PDS – Superannuation (Health division)).

Once you make a choice, you are not locked into a particular investment option. You can switch between investment options or change your investment allocation at any time, provided that you choose whole percentages.

Please note that all switch applications must be made in writing. You can make a switch:

online at www.primesuper.com.au if you have an online member services account; or by completing an Investment choice form – enclosed with this brochure or available to download from our website at www.primesuper.com.au

Switches take effect on the first day of the month after we receive your request but may not appear on your online account until after all investment returns for the previous month have been applied.

Example

If we receive your Investment choice form on 25 February, the switch will be effective from 1 March. But it won't show on your account until all February returns are applied (which may be up to 15 business days later).

What happens if I don't choose an option?

If you don't make an investment choice you will be placed in the MySuper option.

As the majority of our members are quite young with many years until retirement, our MySuper option contains a higher weighting to growth assets than most typical default options.

Failing to choose an investment strategy that is appropriate for your circumstances and preferences can be a significant investment risk.

Investment options

All members have access to a range of investment options. You can choose any combination of these options, and can direct future contributions into the same options or a different combination of options.

More information on investments

Derivatives

The Trustee may directly buy or sell derivative instruments and permits investment managers to use them. However, derivative investments may not be used by the Trustee or investment managers for speculative purposes. The use of derivatives is monitored and a derivatives risk statement has been prepared by the Trustee that limits the use of derivatives to reducing costs, hedging, arbitrage and other defensive purposes.

Investment reviews

We periodically review our investment options. The investment mix for any investment option can change from time-to-time because of these reviews and may deviate from the asset allocations shown if we consider it prudent to do so. Information on current investment allocations is available online or by calling us on 1800 675 839.

Investment managers

The Fund uses a number of investment managers to manage the assets of each investment option. This is intended to reduce investment volatility. The Trustee may remove or appoint new investment managers at any time. You can obtain information about current investment managers online or by calling us on 1800 675 839.

Other considerations

We do not take labour standards, environmental, social or ethical considerations into account in the selection or retention of investments, except as they relate to the Fund's overall intention to act legally, act in the best interests of members and deal with parties who, to the best of our knowledge, are reputable organisations.

6. FEES AND COSTS

This document shows fees and other costs that you may be charged. These fees and other costs may be deducted from your money, from the returns on your investment or from the assets of the superannuation entity as a whole.

Other fees, such as activity fees, advice fees for personal advice and insurance fees, may also be charged, but these will depend on the nature of the activity, advice or insurance chosen by you. Due to government regulations, we are required to disclose your fees and costs gross of tax. The gross amount has been calculated based on an assumption of 15% tax. You will receive a tax benefit equivalent to 15% of the fee on your account. The net effect of this change in disclosure is nil. The Fund will pay tax at a rate that is less than 15%. Any difference is retained in the Administration Reserve.

Taxes, insurance fees and other costs relating to insurance are set out in another part of this document.

You should read all the information about fees and other costs because it is important to understand their impact on your investment.

Additional explanation of fees and costs

ERF fees

If your benefit is transferred to an ERF you will be charged a withdrawal fee of $11.76 (gross) when your benefit is processed to the ERF.

Family law fees

Fees apply for processing Requests For Information (RFI) and Payment Splits under the Family Law Act 1975 (Cth). Fees may vary depending upon the difficulty of the request/split or the content of the court order/agreement and members will be notified in advance of any fees being charged. The fee normally charged to process a RFI is $129.41 (gross) and is charged to the party making the request. The fee normally charged to process a Payment Split is $105.88 (gross) and is divided equally between the parties involved.

Government taxes and charges

Applicable Government taxes and charges will be deducted from your account. These deductions will be shown on your annual member statement or benefit payment statement, when you exit the Fund. Please see the How super is taxed section of this brochure for more information.

Where it is possible to do so, the benefits of any tax deductions are applied for the benefit of members of the Fund, in the form of reduced fees or costs or higher net earnings.

Insurance fees

Insurance fees are set out in Section 8 of this brochure.

Financial planning costs

The Trustee does not pay commissions to financial planners. If a member chooses, they may have a financial plan prepared in relation to their super interest in the Fund for a fee paid from their member account. Payment of the fee is conditional on the advice being confined to the member's relevant super interests.

Investment option ICR

Indirect Cost Ratio (ICR) is the ratio of indirect management costs to the Fund's total average net assets. Indirect management costs are those which are not deducted directly from member accounts. Rather, they are costs deducted from the Fund's overall investment earnings before earnings rates to be credited to member accounts, are declared. ICRs for the investment options offered are shown in the table on page 31. ICR includes:

- the costs of investment management such as investment manager base fees and Performance Bonus Fees (PBF) sometimes paid to some investment managers; and
- other expenses that are not met from fees deducted from members.

The ICR can change from year to year depending upon:

- fund size;
- investment manager performance; and
- other variables.

ICR figures include PBFs that may become payable to some investment managers from time-to-time. The PBF is determined as a percentage of the manager's return achieved in excess of the specified target rate for the manager over an agreed period. Therefore, the PBF only applies when the manager performs greater than the specified target. Basically, the PBFs vary according to the amount of out-performance achieved by each applicable investment manager.

Important note

The PBFs are not additional costs – they are included in the ICR figures. They do not affect the administration fee charged by Prime Super. Basically, the ICR represents the cost of making and holding investments. The ICR is not charged to your member account. It is incorporated into the calculation of the investment option return.

Unusual and complex requests

In some unusual circumstances, the provision of information that requires the application of a particularly unusual or complex process or procedure may be subject to a charge. If this occurs you will be advised of the charge before it is incurred. Information about the Fund, Trustee and benefits is normally provided free to participating employers and members.

Increases or alterations in fees

Fees disclosed in this brochure will not be increased or altered without providing members with at least 30 days written notice. In addition to the fees outlined in this section, the Trustee may also pay the following out of the Fund:

- any new, special, unexpected or increased tax, fee or levy required by the Government or a government regulator;
- any new, special, unexpected or increased cost passed on by a service provider; and
- any additional cost deemed necessary or appropriate by the Trustee for the proper operation of the Fund.

Where these are not met by fees charged to members, they will be reflected in ICR calculations.

Operational Risk Reserve

What is the Operational Risk Reserve?

From 1 July 2013, the Federal Government has imposed a requirement on all funds to build up an Operational Risk Reserve (ORR) to specifically cover potential losses arising from “operational risks” that may affect the Fund’s business operations. An “operational risk” is the risk of loss resulting from inadequate or failed internal processes, people and systems, or from external events.

The ORR will be drawn upon where there has been a significant cost to the Fund (greater than 0.05% of total assets of the Fund) as a result of an operational risk.

How will Prime Super build up its Operational Risk Reserve?

As legislatively required of all funds, Prime Super started building up its ORR from 1 July 2013. The ORR is set at a target amount of 0.25% of the total value of the Fund as at 30 June each year (in accordance with APRA guidance). The amount was to be established over a three year transition period by transferring a portion from members’ accounts to the ORR calculated in the following manner:

- 0.10% p.a. of each member’s account balance will be transferred as at 30 June 2014, 30 June 2015 and 30 June 2016; and
- if a member exits the Fund between 1 July 2013 and 30 June 2016, 0.10% p.a. of the member’s account balance pro-rated for the period from the last 30 June to the date the member exits the Fund, will be transferred to the ORR.

The ORR was fully funded by Prime Super during the period to 30 June 2014. However the Trustee retains the discretion to top up the ORR in the future with a deduction from members’ accounts if required.

When will the Operational Risk Reserve be replenished?

The level of the ORR will be assessed at least annually as at 30 June each year. If the balance of the ORR falls below 0.25%, the Trustee may top up the ORR by either:

- a transfer of funds from the Administration Reserve; or
- if the balance falls below a tolerance limit (as determined by the Trustee) or an adverse significant event occurs, through the implementation of a Replenishment Plan which will involve levying a direct charge on members over a period of up to three years.

What are the rights of exiting members?

The maintenance of an ORR is a legislative obligation imposed on all super funds and members that exit the Fund are not entitled to any share of the ORR at the date of exiting the Fund. Where a member has contributed to the ORR during their tenure of membership over a period where the ORR has not been drawn upon, that member will not be entitled to a pro-rated draw down on the ORR upon exiting the Fund.

7. HOW SUPER IS TAXED

Warning – The taxation information contained in this Brochure is current as at the date of the Short-Form PDS and is subject to change by the Government. Go to the ATO website at www.ato.gov.au to confirm that these tax rates and caps still apply.

Contributions

Tax payable on contributions is deducted from contributions when they are received by the Fund, before they are allocated to a member's account. The tax on concessional contributions when they are received by the Fund is 15%.

High income earners tax

High income earners are required to pay an additional 15% on concessional contributions. You are liable for this extra tax if:

- you had concessional super contributions for an income year, and
- your income, plus your concessional contributions, is greater than $300,000.

However, if your income excluding your concessional contributions is:

- less than the $300,000 threshold; but
- the inclusion of your concessional contribution pushes you over the threshold then the additional 15% tax will only apply to the concessional contributions that are in excess of the $300,000 threshold.

The additional tax is assessed at tax time and is payable directly to the ATO. For more information please visit www.ato.gov.au.

Key rules for concessional contributions

Some special rules apply to the excess concessional contributions tax (ECCT) i.e. the excess tax you pay on concessional contributions above the cap:

- if super benefits are transferred from an overseas scheme, the Fund can pay any tax liability and the transfer amount is excluded from the concessional contributions cap. Members wishing to transfer amounts from overseas schemes should seek professional tax advice from a qualified practitioner; and
- people who are self-employed and wish to claim a tax deduction for concessional contributions are required to complete and lodge a Deduction for personal super contributions form (NAT 71121) to the ATO.

Key rules for non-concessional contributions

Certain types of contributions are excluded from the non-concessional contributions cap (NCCC), including:

- small business capital gains tax exemptions up to a lifetime limit of $1million;
- the Government co-contribution;
- low income superannuation contribution; and
- qualifying permanent disability payments.

Investment earnings

As the Fund offers different investment options with different exposures to investments, some of which may carry tax credits, the investment options may pay different actual rates of tax. This is one factor that affects the investment return you receive.

Tax payable on investment earnings is deducted from the earnings for each of the Fund's investment options, before the earnings are credited to members' accounts.

Withdrawals

Tax payable on a super benefit payment (withdrawal) is deducted from the benefit before it is paid to a member.

Super benefit payments (withdrawals) are divided into a tax-free component and a taxable component. The tax-free component consists of a contributions segment and a crystallized segment.

Generally, the contributions segment consists of contributions received by the Fund after 30 June 2007 that have not been included in the Fund's assessable income because they do not attract contributions tax.

The crystallised segment is made up of amounts that were not taxed or were lightly taxed under the pre-July 2007 rules. This includes the old pre-July 1983, CGT exempt, post-June 1994 invalidity, concessional and undeducted components.

The taxable component consists of the remainder of the benefit.

Tax components of benefits

As mentioned previously, super benefits are made up of two components – a tax-free and a taxable component. The tax-free component is the part of your benefit that is tax-free. The taxable component is the part of your benefit that is taxable and may include two parts – a taxed element (where tax has already been paid on the benefit in the Fund) and the untaxed component (where tax has not been paid in the Fund).

Where a person aged less than 60 takes a super benefit

If you're aged less than 60 and take out your super:

- the tax-free component will be tax-free; and
- the taxable component (assuming that it is a 100% taxed element) is:
 - tax-free up to the low rate cap, with the balance being taxed at 15%, if you are between your preservation age and 60; and
 - 20% if you are under your preservation age.

The low rate cap for the 2014-15 tax year is $185,000. Income protection benefits are taxed in the same way as wages and salaries.

Different rules apply to most Government super funds.

Where a person aged 60 or over takes a super benefit

If you are aged 60 or over and your benefit is a taxed element, your benefit is tax-free.

If you are still working, you may also be able to take advantage of the tax benefits associated with a TTR strategy. You can save tax by making salary sacrifice contributions into your Prime Super account while drawing income from your Prime Super TTR income stream.

Different rules apply to most Government super funds.

More information about Prime Super's income stream products is available in the Prime Super Short-Form PDS – Retirement income streams and the Prime Super's retirement options brochure.

Tax on Death & Terminal Illness benefits

If your lump sum Death benefit is paid to a person who is considered a dependant for tax purposes, the payment is tax-free.

If it is paid to a non-dependant, tax is payable on the taxable component of the lump sum at 15% plus the Medicare levy. Any untaxed element of the benefit will be taxed at 30% plus the Medicare levy. This amount is deducted from the Death benefit before it is paid to the non-dependant. Terminal Illness benefits that are paid to members are tax-free.

Government co-contributions

If you're a low to middle income earner, you may be entitled to receive a super co-contribution from the Government. To qualify, you must earn below a specified amount (for the current thresholds, please visit www.ato.gov.au/super) and make personal contributions from your after-tax income. Salary sacrifice contributions are ineligible for co-contributions.

The co-contribution scheme also includes self-employed people who earn no more than 10% of their assessable income from wages or salary.

Co-contributions do not count towards your non-concessional contributions cap.

Eligibility for a co-contribution is determined by the ATO and it will advise you of the amount of any co-contribution you may be entitled to. Payments of co-contributions to Prime Super by the ATO may not always be timely and you should contact the ATO for more information on the timing of your co-contribution payment.

Low income superannuation contribution (LISC)*

For the 2012-13 to 2016-17 financial years, if you earn less than $37,000, the government will refund the 15% contributions tax for concessional (before-tax) contributions made by you, or for you, up to a maximum of $500. For more information on the LISC please go to www.ato.gov.au/super.

* Please note that the LISC is only available for concessional contributions made up to and including the 2016-17 financial year and determination by the ATO as to whether the LISC is payable will cease on 30 June 2019. Please see www.ato.gov.au/super for further information.

Spouse contributions

If you make contributions to your spouse's super account on their behalf, you may be entitled to the spouse tax offset. The offset is subject to the following provisions:

- your spouse is under age 65 or working at least on a part-time basis between the ages of 65-69;
- the contribution is made to a complying super fund;
- you did not claim a tax deduction on the contributions;
- both you and your spouse are residents of Australia at the time contributions are made (and were not living separately on a permanent basis); and
- your spouse's assessable income is less than $13,800.

The rebate is currently 18% of contributions up to $3,000 to a maximum rebate of $540. The rebate is reduced by $1 for every $1 the eligible spouse's assessable income is above $10,800 and is capped at $13,800. Reportable fringe benefits are included in the calculation of an eligible spouse's income.

Contribution splitting

You can split certain super contributions made during a financial year with your spouse. This allows your spouse to accumulate their own super, even if they have a low income or are not working. Not all types of contributions can be split and the rules have changed over time. Generally you are only allowed to split employer contributions (including salary sacrificed contributions) or if you are self-employed, any personal contributions that you are going to claim a tax deduction for. For a full list of contributions that can be split and the limits that apply to contribution splitting, please call us on 1800 675 839 or the ATO.

Tax File Numbers (TFNs)

The Trustee is authorised by law to collect your TFN under the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993 (Cth).

The Trustee will only use your TFN for lawful purposes, including identifying or finding your lost superannuation benefits, merging accounts within the Fund, calculating tax on payments and providing information to the ATO.

These purposes may change in the future as a result of legislative change. By law, we may disclose your TFN to another super fund, when your benefits are being transferred, unless you request otherwise in writing.

It is not an offence to withhold your TFN, however if we do not have your TFN:

- we may have to pay extra income tax on contributions your employer makes for you (including any salary sacrificed contributions) and may take this extra money out of your super account; and
- we may not be able to accept some contributions.

You may provide your TFN over the phone or in writing (including electronically). Your annual member benefit statement shows whether you have supplied your TFN. If you have not supplied us with your TFN but would like to do so, please contact us on 1800 675 839 or update your details using our secure online member services facility at www.primesuper.com.au.

Super contributions surcharge

The Government scrapped the super surcharge for new contributions received after 30 June 2005.

However, surcharge tax assessments relating to past periods may be received by the Fund for some members. If this is the case, your benefit in Prime Super will be reduced by the value of the surcharge tax assessment. The Trustee does not calculate surcharge tax assessments. Members who wish to question a surcharge tax assessment should contact the ATO on 13 10 20.

Further tax information

For more information on how tax applies to super contributions, investment earnings and withdrawals, go to the ATO website at www.ato.gov.au.

8. INSURANCE IN YOUR SUPER

Insurance offered through Prime Super's Health division is provided by MLC Limited (ABN 90 000 000 402 AFSL 230694) (MLC) (Insurer). The insurance policies are held by the Trustee. The insurance policies, Trust Deed and relevant law help determine your eligibility for insurance cover.

Subject to underwriting restrictions, members can choose the insurance benefits that suit them. The Fund offers members:

- Death only insurance (including Terminal Illness);
- Death and Total & Permanent Disablement (TPD) insurance; and
- Income protection insurance

Insurance options

It is automatically provided to eligible members without the need to provide any medical information. Members are also eligible for an additional 3 units of Death and/or TPD cover without the need to provide medical information subject to applying within 60 days of joining the Fund – that is the date of your welcome letter.

You are eligible for default Death, TPD and Income protection cover, if you meet the following criteria:

- are aged between 16 years and 65 years of age;
- you join the Fund through a participating Health division employer;
- you receive your first employer contribution to the Fund within 120 days of joining;

- join the Health division as a Personal member, that is without an employer or without employer contributions being made to your member account;
- join the Health division more than 120 days after you commenced employment with a participating Health division employer;

² Please see the defined terms in this section' on page 43 for a definition of 'Limited cover'.

Your Limited cover restriction will apply for 12 months

For Death cover, Limited cover applies for 12 months. After the 12 month period, full cover will apply.

For Income protection and TPD cover, where a member is not 'At work' on the date they join the Health division, Limited Cover will revert to full cover prior to the expiry of the 12 months on the date the member returns to active employment without restriction due to illness or injury for 60 consecutive days.

Personal members are not entitled to Default cover

Please note that Personal members are not entitled to Default cover. If you join the Health division as a Personal member, any insurance cover you apply for will have to be underwritten (the provision of the provision of health, occupation and lifestyle evidence) and cover will be subject to acceptance by the Insurer.

How much does Default cover cost?

Each unit of Death cover costs $1.14 ($1.34 gross) per week.

Each unit of TPD cover costs $1.14 ($1.34 gross) per week.

Default Death & TPD cover costs $2.28 ($2.68 gross) per week and is deducted directly from your member account.

Each unit of Income protection costs $2.33 ($2.74 gross) per week.

Default Income protection cover can cost between $2.33 - $9.32 ($2.74 and $10.96 gross) per week (depending on your annual income) and is deducted directly from your member account.

The gross amounts shown have been calculated based on an assumption of 15% tax. You will receive a tax benefit equivalent to 15% of this fee on your account. The net effect of this change in disclosure is nil on the premium. The fund will pay tax at a rate that is less than 15%. The difference is retained in the Administration Reserve.

New members can apply for extra cover without underwriting when they join the Fund

New members can apply for three additional units of Death and TPD cover within 60 days of joining the Fund without the need to provide health or medical information.

Cancellation of Default Death & TPD cover

If you decide you do not want insurance cover through the Fund, you have 14 days from the date of your welcome letter to cancel your insurance cover. This is known as the 'cooling off' period. If you cancel within the 14 day period, any premiums paid by you will be refunded to your member account. If you cancel your insurance cover you will not be able to make a claim through Prime Super for any event that occurs whilst you are a member and do not hold insurance cover.

You can reapply for cover at any time in the future however your request will be subject to underwriting (the provision of health, occupation and lifestyle evidence) and any cover will be subject to acceptance by the insurer.

To cancel your default cover you will need to advise the Fund in writing.

If you decide to cancel your insurance cover outside the 14 day period, any premiums you have paid will not be refunded to your account.

Increased cover

If you do not have enough cover to protect yourself and your dependants in the event of death or disability you can apply to increase your cover. You can purchase any number of additional units of insurance subject to underwriting and maximum cover amounts ($10,000,000 for Death cover, $3,000,000 for TPD cover and $30,000 per month for Income protection).

Reduced cover/cancelling your cover

If you wish to reduce or cancel your insurance cover, you can do so by writing to the Fund.

Death cover (including terminal illness)

If you die whilst an insured member of the Health division, subject to any legislative restrictions that may apply, we will pay your death benefit (the balance of your member account plus your insured benefit) to your dependants or legal representative, provided the Insurer approves your claim.

Death cover is unitised which means you purchase it in units that have a specified benefit value at each age. Each unit of Death cover costs $1.14 ($1.34 gross) per unit per week.

Terminal illness benefit

In the event you suffer a terminal illness, we will pay you an advance payment of your Death benefit, up to a maximum of $3 million (subject to approval from the Insurer). A 'terminal illness' is an illness which, after consideration of medical evidence required under superannuation law, would reasonably be expected to reduce your life expectancy to less than 12 months. If you have cover in excess of $3 million, the remainder of your benefit will be paid to your dependants or legal representative upon your death.

Total and Permanent Disablement (TPD) cover

If you suffer from an illness or injury that renders you totally and permanently disabled whilst an insured member of the Fund, we will pay the balance of your member account plus your insured benefit to you (subject to approval from the insurer). Please see page 44 for the definition and rules applicable to TPD cover.

All TPD benefits must be assessed by the Trustee before any payment is made, to ensure all payments are made in accordance with the relevant legislation and the Trust Deed.

As each claim is assessed by the Trustee and Insurer separately, it's possible for the Trustee to conclude that you qualify for a TPD benefit while the insurer concludes that you do not qualify for the benefit. If this occurs, the Trustee will pay the member account portion of the TPD benefit and liaise with the Insurer to consider your claim for the insured portion of the TPD benefit.

The Trustee has no obligation to pay the insured portion of the TPD benefit to you unless and until it is paid by the Insurer.

TPD cover is unitised which means you purchase it in units that have a specified benefit value at each age. Each unit of TPD cover costs $1.14 ($1.34 gross) per unit per week.

TPD cover must be taken with Death cover (it is not a stand-alone product) and you cannot have more TPD units than Death units of cover.

When does my Death & TPD cover start?

If you are a new employer-sponsored member, your Default insurance begins on the date your employer makes a contribution to your member account and provided you meet the eligibility criteria for cover.

If you are a Personal member, your cover starts on the day the Insurer accepts your application for cover provided that you have enough funds in your member account to pay your insurance premiums.

If you have applied for new cover or to increase your cover, your cover will start on the date that your insurance application is accepted by the insurer.

When is a Death and/or Death & TPD benefit paid?

You will be eligible for a benefit if:

- you have Death and/or TPD insurance through the Health division of the Fund;
- in the case of Death cover, you die or your claim for a Terminal illness benefit has been approved by the Insurer; and
- in the case of TPD, your claim has been approved by the Insurer.

When does Death and/or Death & TPD cover end?

Generally, your insurance will cease on the earliest of, but not limited to, the following circumstances:

- you write to us stating that you wish to cancel your insurance;
- 60 days from the date that there are insufficient funds in your account to pay for premiums;
- the date you take out a continuation option with the Insurer;
- the day before you commence service in the armed forces of any country (excluding Australian Army Reservists not deployed overseas);
- the date you are paid a Death benefit or Terminal illness benefit (in the case of Death cover) or a TPD benefit (in the case of TPD cover);
- you reach age 65;
- you die; or
- you cease to be a member of the Health division of Prime Super.

Exclusion or loadings

Sometimes if a member has a higher risk of a medical condition, the insurer might apply an exclusion and/or loading to their insurance cover rather than refuse to cover them at all.

An insurer will often apply an exclusion on to a member's policy to offset or eliminate the risk associated with a particular condition. Without the exclusion the member may have to pay increased premiums, or have their cover declined altogether where no loadings are available. An exclusion clause is usually applied when a member discloses a pre-existing medical condition that increases their risk of claiming under the policy. Additionally, exclusions can be applied when a person performs an activity that increases their likelihood of death or disability, such as sky diving. Where an exclusion clause is applied, the member is still covered for all other unrelated health conditions and activities.

Loadings allow an insurer to accept risk in relation to conditions that generally impact a person's level of health, such as blood pressure and diabetes, which do not necessarily result in a specific cause of claim. In such circumstances the insurer cannot identify a particular condition to exclude but has assessed that the cover would expose it to a greater risk of incurring a claim.

Income protection cover

Income protection protects you when you suffer a short-term Disability (including a Partial Disability) that prevents you from earning a regular income, from your usual occupation due to illness or injury for longer than 60 days (this is your waiting period).

Income protection cover through the Health division provides you with a regular income of up to 75% of your monthly income for up to 2 years in the event of a temporary disability that lasts longer than the waiting period.

Each unit of Income protection cover costs $2.33 ($2.74 gross) per week and provides a benefit of up to $1,500 a month inclusive of the Superannuation Guarantee component.

Please note that employees earning less than $10,000 per year, or who are in Seasonal or Contract employment are not eligible for Income protection insurance.

- workers' compensation;
- any statutory accident compensation scheme, in respect of loss of income; or
- benefits under any other disability, injury or sickness insurance policy (except for lump sum benefits received for total and permanent disablement).

Sick leave, annual leave and long service leave entitlements and investment income are not taken into account.

Are there any exclusions to my cover?

Income protection benefit payments will not be made if the event is caused either directly or indirectly from:

- war or warlike operations;
- service in the armed forces (excluding Australian Army Reservists not deployed overseas);
- any intentional self-inflicted injury or attempted suicide, whether you were sane or insane;
- normal and uncomplicated pregnancy or childbirth.

Health information

If you are applying for insurance or making a claim through the Fund we may be required, with your consent, to collect information about you and your family's medical history (health information) so the Insurer is able to assess your application or claim.

In turn, the Insurer may pass this information to their reinsurers and/or contractors and third party service providers to assist them in assessing cover. The Insurer, their reinsurers, contractors and third party service providers are required to keep this information confidential but may use the information collected in assessing any application or claim you make and may pass this information on to any other party that assists them in assessing an application or claim.

If you make a claim under the insurance policy, the Insurer may conduct investigations to assess the validity of the claim. This may involve the use of investigation agents, legal advisers and the collection of personal information, including health information that the Insurer believes is relevant.

We will only use the health information we collect for these or directly related purposes. You can write to us to access the information we hold about you and to tell us if the information needs to be updated. We try to give each member access to their information on request, but we will tell you if this is not possible.

Additional information on insurance

Interim cover on application

If you do not meet the eligibility for Default cover or if you apply to increase your insurance cover you will receive an interim level of Death, TPD and/or Income protection cover (if you are applying for Income protection cover). This will cease on the earlier of a period of 90 days from when the Insurer receives your application, and the date the application is either accepted or rejected. This cover is limited to the lesser of the Benefit amount being applied for and $1,000,000 for Death and/or TPD and $15,000 for Income Protection.

Maximum cover

Insurance cover offered is subject to the following maximum amounts:

- $10 million for Death cover
- $3 million for TPD or Terminal Illness; and
- $30,000 per month for Income protection.

Making a claim

You must notify the Trustee (preferably in writing) as soon as reasonably practicable after an event giving rise to a claim.

The Insurer is generally not obliged to accept liability for any claim which, due to the delay in notifying in writing, they are prejudiced in making a decision.

As a condition of paying an insured benefit the Insurer may require you, your estate or your personal legal representative to:

- substantiate the claim;
- be examined by a medical practitioner(s) appointed by the Insurer; and
- submit satisfactory proof of age.

If you make a claim under the insurance policy, the Insurer may conduct investigations to assess the validity of the claim.

This may involve the use of investigation agents, legal advisers and the collection of personal information, including health information that the insurer believes is relevant.

Payment of insured benefits

All insured benefits payable by the Insurer in respect of a member are paid to the Trustee. The insured benefit is then paid out by the Trustee in accordance with the relevant law.

Insurance issued in error

Rarely, some members may be mistakenly set up with two accounts in the Health division and receive multiple units of Default insurance cover. This will most often occur where members change employers. Should this occur, any incorrectly allocated cover will be invalid and any excess premiums paid will be refunded to your member account along with an allowance for any investment earnings (positive or negative).

Insurance premiums are not refundable

If you take out insurance cover and subsequently decide to terminate your cover, any premiums paid are not refundable. Please note that this does not apply to the cancellation of Default cover where you cancel within 14 days of joining the Fund.

Duty of disclosure

When applying for insurance cover under the Insurance Contracts Act 1984 you must disclose to the Insurer everything you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, that is relevant to the Insurer's decision to accept your application. If you fail to disclose relevant information the Insurer may treat your insurance as if you were never covered or reduce the sum insured.

Your duty, however, does not require a disclosure of a matter:

- that diminishes the risk to be undertaken by the Insurer;
- that is of common knowledge;
- that your Insurer knows or, in the ordinary course of its business, ought to know; or
- for which your duty of compliance is waived by the insurer.

Your Duty of Disclosure continues until we accept your application and issue you with insurance cover. It also applies if you seek to extend, vary or reinstate the contract.

Non-disclosure

If you fail to comply with your Duty of Disclosure and the Insurer would not have entered into the contract on any terms if the failure had not occurred, the Insurer may avoid the contract within three years of entering into it. If your non-disclosure is fraudulent, the Insurer may avoid the contract at any time.

An Insurer who is entitled to avoid a contract of life insurance may, within three years of entering into it, elect not to avoid it but reduce the sum that you have been insured for in accordance with a formula that takes into account the premium that would have been payable if you had disclosed all relevant matters to the Insurer.

Child accounts

Accounts can be held for children of any age in the Fund, however, insurance is not available to child members until they reach their 15th birthday. At this point, premiums are automatically deducted from their accounts for the default level of insurance.

- are under the regular care and following the advice of a Medical Practitioner in relation to that illness or injury

Terminal Illness means you suffer from an illness which:

- a) two medical practitioners, specialising in your illness, certify in writing will despite reasonable medical treatment lead to your death within 12 months of the date of the certification; and
- b) we are satisfied, on medical or other evidence, will despite reasonable medical treatment lead to your death within 12 months of the date of the certification referred to in paragraph (a).

The illness from which you suffer must occur, and the date of the certification referred to in paragraph (a) must be made while you are covered under this policy and must be current at the time the claim is lodged.

If you are outside of Australia at the time of your claim, we may require you to return to Australia at your own expense for assessment of a Terminal Illness benefit.

Totally Disabled or Total Disability (Income protection only) means solely as a result of illness or injury occurring you are:

- unable to perform at least one income producing duty of your occupation; and
- not working in any occupation, whether or not for reward; and
- under the regular care and following the advice of a Medical Practitioner.

TPD definitions means:

1. Unlikely to return to work

If you are aged less than 65 years and work at least 15 hours per week, TPD means you have been absent from your occupation solely through injury or illness for a period of six (6) consecutive months and are incapacitated to such an extent that, in the Insurer's opinion, after consideration of medical and other relevant evidence, you were, at the end of the period of six (6) consecutive months absence from employment, unlikely to ever engage in or work for reward in any occupation for which you are reasonably suited by education, training or experience.

2. Suffered Specific Loss

If you are aged less than 65 years, TPD means you suffer the permanent loss of use of two limbs or the sight of both eyes; or the permanent loss of use of one limb and the sight of one eye (where limb is defined as whole hand or whole foot) in circumstances where the loss will never be regained.

Notwithstanding the above, the definition of TPD will be varied where any one of the circumstances in definitions 3 and 4 also applies.

3. Activities of Daily Living

If you are engaged in permanent employment for less than 15 hours per week or are 65 years of age, and have been absent from your occupation solely through injury or illness for a period of six (6) consecutive months and are incapacitated to such an extent that, in the Insurer's opinion, after consideration of medical and other relevant evidence you, at the end of the period of six (6) consecutive months absence from employment, unlikely to ever be able to perform at least two (2) activities of daily living without the physical help of someone else.

For the purpose of this definition, activities of daily living means:

- bathing and/or showering; or
- dressing; or
- moving from place to place; or
- eating or drinking; or
- using the toilet.

4. Home duties

Where your occupation is classified as 'home duties' and you work less than 15 hours per week, TPD means that due to injury or illness for a period of six (6) consecutive months has rendered you unable to perform your usual occupation, you are incapacitated to such an extent that, in the Insurer's opinion, after consideration of medical and other relevant evidence, you, at the end of the period of six (6) consecutive months absence from employment, are unlikely to ever again attend to at least two (2) normal physical domestic household duties. This will be evidenced by being unable to undertake any two of the following activities:

- cleaning the family home; or
- shopping for food and household items; or
- meal preparation and laundry services; or
- leaving the house without the assistance of another person; or
- looking after dependent child/children under 16 years of age or in full time secondary education, where applicable; or
- providing full time care for a disabled person(s) who is a member of their immediate family, where applicable.

If you are able to perform the normal physical domestic household duties with the assistance of another person or with the use of assistive devices, they are deemed to be able to perform these duties. You must be under the regular care and attention and following the advice of a doctor for that injury or illness. Evidence that you carried out the duties on a daily basis prior to your period of disability will be required.

Underwriting refers to the process the Insurer uses to assess your eligibility to receive their product.

When assessing your application, the Insurer may contact you directly by phone or in writing if they have any further questions. You will be notified of the outcome of your application in writing, including any terms, conditions and loadings that may apply. Your insurance premiums will then be debited from your member account once the Insurer has accepted your application.

Upon underwriting assessment of your insurance application and declaration, the Insurer may:

- accept your application;
- apply an insurance premium loading;
- exclude you from being insured for certain ailments or activities; and/or
- decline to provide any insurance at all.

Unit refers to a measure of insurance. Each unit of insurance provides a level of benefit that depends on the age of the member at the date of the relevant event.

Waiting period (Income protection only) means the period of continuous disability commencing from the first day of Total Disability, during which no Total or Partial Disability Benefits are payable. The waiting period starts on the date the person first gets medical advice and is confirmed to have a Total Disability by a Doctor.

Important information

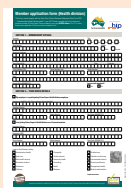

The Trustee believes the information provided summarises the terms of cover negotiated with the Insurer. In the event of a claim or dispute, the insurance policy, the Trust Deed and the relevant law will prevail over the contents of the Short-Form PDS. If there is an inconsistency between the Short-form PDS and the insurance policy, the conditions, definitions and exclusions under the policy will prevail. Copies of the insurance policies are available on request from the Trustee.

More information about the insurance offered through Prime Super's Health division is available in the Are you adequately covered? (Health division) guide.

SECTION 2 – YOUR INVESTMENT CHOICE

Please choose how you would like your money invested. You can choose an investment strategy that applies to both your existing balance and future contributions. Your existing balance is the balance you already have in the Fund. Your future contributions include SG and personal contributions, deductions and rollovers processed in the future.

Alternatively, you can choose an investment strategy for your existing balance and then a different strategy for your future contributions.

For example: Existing balance: 100% Managed growth – Future contributions: 50% MySuper; 50% Managed growth.

This means all of the funds you currently have with Prime Super would be invested in the Managed growth investment option, but contributions made in the future would be invested across the MySuper and Managed growth investment options.

Your choices must be in whole numbers and must total 100%. If you do not complete this form correctly we will be unable to process it.

Nomination of beneficiaries form

Please complete this form to nominate who receives your superannuation benefit in the event of your death. Please complete in pen using BLOCK letters. Print 'X' to mark boxes where applicable. Please provide as much information as possible.

Who you can nominate

Who can receive your benefit in the event of your death?

We can pay your benefit to:

- your legal personal representative (i.e. the executor or administrator of your estate); or
- your dependant(s); or
- a combination of your legal personal representative (i.e. your estate) and your dependant(s).

Any beneficiary you nominate must be either your legal personal representative or a dependant at the date of your death.

If you nominate your legal personal representative, your benefit will be paid according to your Will (or according to the law of your state or territory if you have no Will).

Who qualifies as a dependant?

Under Superannuation Law, a dependant is:

- your spouse (including de facto of the same or different sex);
- your children (including biological, step and adopted children, or a child of your spouse);
- any person who is financially dependent on you; and
- any person with whom you have an interdependency relationship including:
 - any person with whom you have a close personal relationship and live with where, one or both of you also provides ongoing financial support, domestic support and personal care; and
 - any person with whom you have a close personal relationship where, because of a disability, the above requirements of living together, financial support, domestic support and personal care are not able to be satisfied.

Types of nominations

You can choose to make a preferred nomination or binding nomination.

What is a preferred nomination?

- This is a preferred nomination only. The Trustee will take into consideration any nomination you make, however, in this case, the Trustee has final discretion in deciding who will receive your superannuation benefit when you die.
- Should be updated if your circumstances change.
- Requires no witness signatures.

What is a binding nomination?

- When you make a valid binding nomination, you decide who receives your benefit when you die, and how much of the benefit they receive.
- Will be treated as a binding nomination for three years from the date the nomination is made. This nomination reverts to being a preferred nomination after the three-year period if the nomination is not extended by lodging a new binding nomination request. Prime Super will write to you to notify you when your nomination is due to expire.
- Requires two witness signatures. Witnesses must be aged over 18, must not be one of your nominated beneficiaries and must be present when you sign the form. If the witnesses sign and date the form on a different date from your signature, the nomination will be invalid.
- An invalid binding nomination will be treated as a preferred nomination by the Trustee and will not revoke or replace an existing, valid binding nomination.

Note: If you do not make a valid nomination, the Trustee will have final discretion in deciding who will receive your superannuation benefit when you die.

You should refer to the current and relevant Short-Form Product Disclosure Statement (Short-Form PDS) – Superannuation for more information about who qualifies as a dependant and how to make a binding nomination.

DIRECT DEBIT REQUEST SERVICE AGREEMENT

Why an agreement?

Through the Direct Debit Request (DDR) you are allowing us to debit amounts from your bank/financial institution account. The amount, how often and the date we will debit your account depends on what you instruct us to do.

If Prime Super wants to change this agreement

We will notify you at least 14 days before making any changes to this agreement.

If you want to change your direct debit or make an enquiry

Please contact our customer service staff if you wish to:

- delay or change your direct debit – you need to advise us at least ten days before the date we will debit your bank/financial institution account.
- cancel the DDR – you need to advise us at least three days before the date we will debit your bank/financial institution account.
- dispute a debit that has been made from your bank/financial institution account – Prime Super will respond to your dispute within five business days.

Weekends and public holidays

We will always try to debit your account on the date nominated by you, except when this falls on a weekend or a public holiday. In this case we will debit your account on the next business day.

Internet, fax or mail direct debit request

If you are making a direct debit request via the internet, fax or mail we will debit your account on the day of receipt or the next business day.

Make sure you have enough money in your account

You should make sure that you always have enough cleared funds in your bank/financial institution account for us to debit your account. If there isn't enough money (that is, cleared funds) in your account, we will still make the debit. But if your bank/financial institution dishonours the debit we may pass on to you any dishonour fees and/or costs incurred by Prime Super.

Check that you give us your correct details

Before completing the Direct Debit Request, please check with your bank/financial institution that:

- your bank/financial institution account accepts direct debiting as some accounts don't; and
- the account number you give us is correct (refer to your bank/financial institution statement or contact your bank/financial institution if necessary).

Other things to note:

- Bank accounts and Building Society accounts can be nominated. Credit Union accounts cannot be nominated. This facility is not available for such accounts.
- BSB Number – Identifies the bank/financial institution/state/branch at which your account is held. Please contact your bank/financial institution if you are not sure of this number.
- Account Number – Your bank/financial institution account number.
- Member Number – Your Prime Super Member number.

Conditions of Use

- To cancel or alter your direct debit, you must notify Prime Super in writing.
- There must be enough money in the account on each day you have nominated for a deduction to occur.
- If the deduction is dishonoured three times, this facility will cease immediately. A dishonour means that the deduction could not be made because there was not enough money in the nominated account.
 - If Prime Super is advised of a dishonour and any part of the dishonoured amount has been paid out from your account, you will be liable to pay that amount to Prime Super.
 - If Prime Super is advised of a dishonour after all your superannuation benefit is paid out, you are liable to repay the dishonoured amount to Prime Super.

An employer is authorised to collect an employee's TFN under the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993. It is not an offence for an employee not to quote their TFN. However, quoting a TFN reduces the risk of administrative errors and if the employee does not quote their TFN their contributions may be taxed at a higher rate. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

What happens to my future employer contributions?

Using this form to transfer your benefits will not change the fund to which your employer pays your contributions but may terminate your membership of the fund you are transferring your benefits FROM.

If you wish to change the fund into which your contributions are being paid, you will need to speak to your employer about choice of fund. For the appropriate forms and information about whether you are eligible to choose the fund to which your employer contributions are made, visit www.ato.gov.au/super or call the Australian Taxation Office on 13 10 20.

Things you need to consider when transferring your superannuation

When you transfer your superannuation from a fund, your entitlements under that fund may cease. You need to consider all relevant information before you make a decision to transfer your superannuation from a fund. If you ask for information, your superannuation provider must give it to you. Some of the points you may consider are:

- Fees – your FROM fund must give you information about any exit or withdrawal fees. If you are not aware of the fees that may apply, you should contact your fund for further information before completing this form. The fees could include administration fees as well as exit or withdrawal fees. Prime Super does not charge establishment or contribution fees on transfer. Differences in fees funds charge can have a significant effect on what you will have to retire on. For example a 1% increase in fees may significantly reduce your final benefit.
- Death and disability benefits – your FROM fund may insure you against death, illness or an accident which leaves you unable to return to work. If you choose to leave your fund, you may lose any insurance entitlements you have. Other funds may not offer insurance, or may require you to pass a medical examination before they cover you. When considering a new fund, you may wish to check the costs and amount of any cover offered.
- If your FROM fund is not a public offer fund, you may not be able to rejoin that fund.

What happens if I do not quote my TFN?

Under the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993, your superannuation fund is authorised to collect your TFN, which will only be used for lawful purposes.

These purposes may change in the future as a result of legislative change. The trustee of your superannuation fund may disclose your TFN to another superannuation provider, when your benefits are being transferred, unless you request in writing to the trustee of your superannuation fund that your TFN not be disclosed to any other superannuation provider.

It is not an offence not to quote your TFN. However giving your TFN to your superannuation fund will have the following advantages (which may not otherwise apply):

- your superannuation fund will be able to accept all types of contributions to your account(s);
- any concessions on contributions to your superannuation account(s) will be taxed at a lower rate;
- other than the tax that may ordinarily apply, no additional tax will be deducted when you start drawing down your superannuation benefits; and
- it will make it much easier to trace different superannuation accounts in your name so that you receive all your superannuation benefits when you retire.

Your TFN will otherwise remain confidential.
